

Minimum requirements by category for vehicles presenting to the driving test for real total mass

Category
C	The vehicle must be presented with a real total mass (the actual weight of the vehicle including any load if necessary) of at least 10,000kg, having due regard for safety, stability, manufacturer's guidelines and legal limits.
BE	The trailer must be presented with a real total mass (the actual weight of the trailer including any load if necessary) of at least 800kg, having due regard for safety, stability, manufacturer's guidelines and legal limits of the combination.
CE	The articulated vehicle or the combination must be presented with a real total mass (the actual weight of the combination including any load if necessary) of at least 15,000kg, having due regard for safety, stability, manufacturer's guidelines and legal limits of the combination.
C1E	The trailer must be presented with a real total mass (the actual weight of the trailer including any load if necessary) of at least 800kg, having due regard for safety, stability, manufacturer's guidelines and legal limits of the combination.
DE	The trailer must be presented with a real total mass (the actual weight of the trailer including any load if necessary) of at least 800kg, having due regard for safety, stability, manufacturer's guidelines and legal limits of the combination.
D1E	The trailer must be presented with a real total mass (the actual weight of the trailer including any load if necessary) of at least 800kg, having due regard for safety, stability, manufacturer's guidelines and legal limits of the combination.