

List of retailers stocking new N (Novice) Plates

The new regulations for Novice drivers come in to effect from 1st August 2014. If you obtained your first full driving licence on or after the 1st August 2014, you are required to display N (Novice) plates in clearly visible vertical positions to the front and rear of your vehicle for a period of 2 years, and during that period display N-plates on any other vehicle in respect of which you get a driving licence. The N (Novice) plates are rectangular plates or signs bearing the letter N not less than 15 centimetres high in red on a white ground. Where the vehicle is a motorcycle, you must wear an N – tabard.

Novice motorcyclists should be able to get N Tabards from motorcycle shops / motorfactors in due course. To help with supply the RSA will for the next three months, supply N Tabards to Motorcyclists- to whom the new rule applies- on passing their driving test. The RSA will also contact other motorcyclists who having passed their test haven't yet taken out a full driving licence and who will be affected by the new N Tabard rule when they do so.

Below is a sample list of retailers who the RSA is advised stock the N plates.
